From the Editors

Finally Its DONE!!! The 2004-05 yearbook is completed. In this book you will find many event and activities that occurred during the past school year, including fashion shows, formal, and activity day, as well as various teams and clubs. The book took hard work and dedication, but it was well worth it.

We hope that you will be able to look back on your highschool years, cherishing moments spend with friends, classmates, peers, and teachers, some who you may never see again, but who will be still fondly remembered. With that, we would like to dedicate this book to the memory of Brandon Carriere, a student who will always be well remembered by each and every one of us.

Jamie Kryklywy
& Cheryl Savarie

A small group of dedicated people who made up the yearbook committee contributed to the production of this book, an all deserve thank; however some students deserve special thank for there effort. We would like to thank the executive board, as well as the rest of the committee for all their hard work.

Messages from Principals and Vice-Principals

Congratulations to our 2004-2005 Yearbook Committee! We applaud your generosity, your spirit and your creativity. We appreciate your perseverance and your dedication to all of the projects necessary to capture and record the memories to create such a treasure. Thank you for contributing to and for publishing this year in history for KLCVI. To all KLCVI students, as you set your goals for the future, "To love what you do and feel that it matters - how could anything be more fun?" - Kathryn Graham.

Sincerely yours,
Linda Henry

Success is a journey, not a destination. The real secret of success is enthusiasm and you can do anything if you have enthusiasm. Enthusiasm is at the bottom of all progress and accomplishments. Enthusiasts have fortitude and staying qualities. They share their excitement with others. Remember that enthusiasm will help you travel many miles on your journey to success.

Colleen Zubyc

Just as a picture is worth a thousand words, a yearbook is worth a thousand memories. As you flip through this book, you will be reminded of embarrassing moments and great accomplishments. As a record of your years at KLCVI, this yearbook will remind you where you came from and will keep the memories of your friends alive. I wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

Hey,

I'm Laura, the exchange student from Sardinia, Italy!!

I had a really good time here in Kirkland Lake (unbelievable, I know). I will answer everybody's most common question "Why did you choose to come in Kirkland Lake?" "I did not choose Kirkland Lake, I chose Canada". It was one of the best top ten questions together with "Isn't Rome in France?", "Do you speak Spanish in Italy?" and "Is it true that Italian guys are really romantic?" (the answer is "no" for everything, sorry).

As with every other exchange student who lives above this latitude, I had no clue of how my experience was going to be...actually, I had really wrong expectations! Not higher, just different...

Before winter, everybody kept telling me about how cold it would get, and so I kind of dared myself that I would show everybody that I would be fine... and walking pretty often I also realized how most people survive the cold here: cars!!!

I never wanted to have a driver license like I do now!!

By now, the greatest satisfaction for me is to know that I can survive -40°C !

Especially at first, learning the language has been one of the most interesting and hilarious aspects. In fact misunderstanding, learning the "slang" were (and still are!) everyday life.

The school was also a big challenge for me: a totally different system, the language, the activities...and getting at school on time (oops!!!).

My favorite thing is the number of events organized by the school, like the fashion show (the school clothes are such a great idea!!), the signs and the Cupid on Valentine's day, the dances, the Christmas Formal, the "Pie throwing"... I couldn't believe it was in the paper!! Recognizing half of the people in every paper was the best (doesn't happen often in my town of 120000 people)!!

Despite some things, like leaving the school at 7 pm after writing a lab or wondering if Hamlet was written in English, I loved every single course I chose to take!

I joined the seniors' volleyball team, never liking the sport so much before! Unfortunately the season ended.

Thanks to these and other things, my life here became way busier than mine back home...I was shocked by how most teenagers fill their daily schedule with homework, work, extracurricular activities, hobbies, tutoring, volunteering...I mean, I'm really doing my best (and drinking lots of coffee!) but I still need quite a bit of relaxation... So I give up: I couldn't keep up with that sped up lifestyle!!!

On the other side I've never wondered so much to decide what to do during the weekends...then, to keep myself busy, I traveled a little around Canada: Niagara Falls, Toronto, British Columbia (without knowing how to ski or snowboard!) and other little places that you wouldn't know... I loved it and I'm looking forward to going on a awesome tour across Canada this summer!! Go Canada!!

Finally comes the main reason why I can say that I love staying here: the people! Is something that I found Kirkland Lakers are aware of... but I have to admit and confirm that I have found nothing but friendliness and kindness: in my wonderful host families, in my friends, at school...everywhere!!!

I just couldn't believe it when someone I didn't know waived at me or I found myself exchanging words or a smile with strangers! It really feels like a family that welcomes you and after a little while I felt myself like part of the community! So I would really like to thank everyone who made this possible, because thanks are often forgotten (not at the Oscars)! Have fun reading the yearbook and...don't miss me too much!!

A message from the President

I would first like to start off by thanking the rest of the council, without them, none of my visions for this year could have happened; I cannot thank you enough for all of the memories and friendships I have created. I must also thank all of the staff for being so supportive and helpful with all of our events. This year, has been wonderful and many thanks to all those who helped make it that way.

To the students of K.L.C.V.I., I would like to share with you a little story of my own. I remember, way back when in grade eight, I was terrified to come to highschool. Who would have thought that five years later I would be loving school and life, would be actively involved in many extra curricular activities, and be the proud President of Students' Council? This, I surely did not see for myself. But, through my highschool years I have learned that when opportunity knocks on your door, be sure to open it and take full advantage of the moment. If nothing else, I hope you can realize the same. Take advantage of every opportunity that comes your way. Live life to the fullest, dream your dreams, and don't be afraid to reach for the stars. Never let anyone keep you from accomplishing your goals and following your dreams, for the pot of gold is yours to discover, you just have to follow your rainbow.

I wish you all the very best of luck and happiness in all of your future endeavours.

* * Life may not be the party we hoped for, but while we are here we should dance. * *

Sincerest wishes,

Krystal Oviatt

Raining on Grad Night

by Logan Scott & Shawn MacKenzie

*I heard the news today
It always ends the same
Another forgotten name
My friend
Struck down in his prime
Not given enough time
To make his dreams come true*

*We had so much fun
He was taken far too young
But in our hearts he remains
I never realized
It opened up my eyes
The way it changed my life*

*Oh, it's raining on grad night
But his voice echoes on
What a shame, what a loss
It's been raining since grad night
His spirit still lives on within our hearts
Within our souls and within this song*

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when day is done. I'd like to leave an echo, whispering softly down the ways. Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun and to remember happy memories that I leave behind when day is done.

BEYOND WORDS. More than 250,000 people—mostly women and children—were swept to their deaths in one of the greatest natural disasters in world history. An undersea earthquake in the Indian Ocean measuring 9.0 on the Richter scale created a tsunami that devastated the shores of Indonesia, Sri Lanka, South India and Thailand with waves up to 15 metres high. Some 200,000 alone died in Banda Aceh, Indonesia (above).

The tragedy also resulted in a global outpouring of support—with $7 billion, including $425 million from Canada, pledged by public and private sources worldwide. Two months after being found in the debris left behind in the tsunami's wake on a Sri Lankan beach, a four-month-old boy nicknamed Baby 81 (centre inset) was reunited with his parents. Eight couples had claimed the baby as their own, and the dispute went to court while the infant remained in a hospital. Finally, his birth parents gained custody by proving through a DNA test that he was their child.

END OF AN ERA. There's no question that Pope John Paul II was one of the most influential leaders in the 2,000 years of the Catholic church. In his 26 years at the helm, before his death at 84, the first Polish-born pontiff helped bring down Communism in the Soviet bloc and stayed true to his socially conservative views. Because of his charisma, John Paul became a cultural icon and was well-known for reaching out to youth, travelling to Toronto for World Youth Day in 2002, just one of three official visits to Canada, ranging from Fort Simpson, N.W.T. to St. John's, Nfld. (AP/Gregorio Borgia)

A FRAGILE PEACE. There may be some hope for the beleaguered people of Sudan. A deal between the northern Islamic government and southern rebels may end 21 years of civil war. There is even hope that the deal might help those in Sudan's western region of Darfur, where 70,000 people have died from war-related diseases and hunger and another two million have fled their homes since 2002. The UN has called the Darfur situation the "world's greatest humanitarian crisis." (AP/Karel Prinsloo)

THE ORANGE REVOLUTION. His enemies tried to stop him with poison and ballot-stuffing, but Viktor Yushchenko ultimately triumphed over Ukraine's authoritarian regime. Backed by a spontaneous people-power movement that brought millions to the streets, Yushchenko—his face disfigured by 6,000 times the normal level of dioxin—led the fight to nullify a fraudulent presidential election and win the run-off campaign. (AP/Darko Vojinovic)

NO HANGING CHADS THIS TIME. Following one of the most bitter election campaigns in U.S. history, George W. Bush (with wife Laura, above) was re-elected president with 51 per cent of the vote, beating Democrat John Kerry. Despite his widely unpopular war in Iraq, Bush persuaded Americans not to change captains in the midst of a storm. (AP/Pablo Martinez Monsivais)

CLASSROOM HORROR. Terrorists seem to have no depth to their evil. Just as classes began last September in southern Russia, heavily armed Chechen militants took hostage more than 1,100 people, most of them children, in a local elementary school. Demanding independence for Chechnya, where Russian forces are involved in a bloody conflict with separatists, they terrorized their hostages for three days. In the end, 27 of the 30 hostage-takers were killed (the other three were arrested) but 330 people, including 186 children, died in a hail of gunfire. In February, a group of 16 surviving teenagers took a two-week holiday in Canada, paid for by Russian emigrés. (AP/Sergey Ponomarev)

THE FACE OF TORTURE. The world was shocked at the photos of Pfc. Lynndie England and other U.S. military personnel gleefully humiliating and torturing Iraqi inmates at the Abu Ghraib prison near Baghdad. The Pentagon denied condoning the treatment, and though England's fate is still to be determined, several others involved have received prison time. (AP/Chuck Burton)

FREE AT LAST. Now that her five month prison sentence for obstructing justice is behind her, Martha Stewart is trying to repair her battered image with several TV projects—including an Apprentice-type show produced by Survivor creator Mark Burnett. (AP/Mary Altatter)

THE STRUGGLE FOR DEMOCRACY. Iraq's post-war election was deemed a success, even though about 40 people were killed in bombing attacks while trying to get to the polls. But the violence didn't discourage eight million Iraqis from choosing their first elected leaders in more than half a century. Meanwhile, the near daily acts of terrorism continue as about 1,500 U.S. troops and tens of thousands of civilians have died since the invasion in March 2003. (AP/John Moore)

FIT FOR A PRINCE. Prince Charles wed long-time girlfriend Camilla Parker Bowles, ending years of speculation about the couple's future. Their relationship, which dates back to 1970 when both were in their early 20s, was described by Diana, Princess of Wales, as a contributing factor in her divorce from Charles. And although the royal family, including Charles's sons, gave its blessing, there's a catch. If Charles becomes King, divorcee Camilla will not be called Queen, but Princess Consort, instead. (AP/Tim Ockenden)

TRANSFER OF POWER. Until his death last year at 75, Palestinian Authority President Yasser Arafat struggled to secure a homeland for his people. Although considered by Israelis and the Bush Administration as a terrorist roadblock to peace, Arafat was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1994. Mahmoud Abbas was elected to replace Arafat and pledged to curtail violence in his quest for a Mideast peace. (AP/Muhammed Muheisen)

CANADA'S MORAL AUTHORITY.

Louise Arbour stepped down from her lofty position as a justice with the Supreme Court in Ottawa and moved to Geneva to head the UN War Crimes Tribunal. Arbour has since taken full advantage of having the ear of the world's most important leaders and taken on the rich and powerful—speaking out against alleged human rights violations by the U.S. in Iraq and Russia in Chechnya. (AP/Martial Trezzini)

ELECTION RESULT: UNCERTAINTY. Liberal Prime Minister Paul Martin survived a close call, turning the majority he inherited into the first minority government since Joe Clark took office in 1979. After more than a decade under Jean Chrétien, many voters switched to the Conservative Party of Canada under Stephen Harper, but he failed to make the major breakthroughs in central Canada necessary to form a government. (CP/Tom Hanson)

THEY NEVER HAD A CHANCE. What began as an attempt to repossess James Roszko's pickup truck turned into a bloodpath that moved the nation when he opened fire at his Mayerthorpe, Alta. farm, killing four young RCMP constables (from top: Peter Schiemann, 25, of Petrolia, Ont.; Lionide Johnston, 32, of Lac La Biche, Alta.; Brock Myrol, 29, of Outlook, Sask. and Anthony Gordon, 28, of Edmonton) before taking his own life. Roszko had a long history of terrorizing his neighbours, and his farm was found to hold stolen auto parts as well as a small marijuana grow operation. The tragedy is the single worst killing of RCMP officers since the Northwest Rebellion of 1885. (RCMP/HO)

LONG OVERDUE. After winning his second term, George W. Bush finally found time to visit Canada. The trip, to Ottawa and Halifax, was clearly an effort to mend ties between the two countries, strained when Canada did not support the U.S.-led invasion of Iraq. At one point, Bush joked that he had a vision of "two prosperous, independent nations joined together . . . by the return of NHL hockey." (CP/Andrew Vaughan)

HAPPY 100TH BIRTHDAY. In the lead-up to the province's centennial, Alberta premier Ralph Klein announced that his government had eliminated the public debt. Despite that historic achievement, Klein's Progressive Conservative majority was reduced by 12 seats in the November 2004 election, and his own popularity dropped for the first time. Saskatchewan also celebrates its centennial in 2005, but there are no signs that Premier Lorne Calvert will go to the polls. (CP/Jeff McIntosh)

LIBERALS ON THE DEFENSIVE. Paul Martin took the stand at the Gomery inquiry into the Liberal sponsorship fund scandal, marking the first time since John A. Macdonald that a sitting prime minister testified publicly at an inquiry. Martin defended his record just days after former prime minister Jean Chrétien did the same before justice John Gomery (above). Since taking office, Martin has been plagued by an auditor general's report revealing that the sponsorship fund, set up to promote federalism in Quebec after its 1995 referendum, channelled $100 million of advertising money to companies with close Liberal ties. (CP/Tom Hanson)

PUBLIC OR PRIVATE? Although considered one of the best health-care systems in the world, Canada's has no shortage of problems. Wait times for major surgeries and rapidly increasing costs are a couple of the issues that have the provinces knocking on the federal government's door for more cash. And although Paul Martin thinks he saved the day with a $41 billion, 10-year injection, others say major reforms, including some private sector involvement, are still needed. (CP/J.P. Moczulski)

DEADLY FIRE BELOW. Our military continues to make news, much of it bad. On its maiden voyage, two electric fires erupted inside the submarine HMCS Chicoutimi, leaving it without power and adrift in the North Atlantic. One crew member died from injuries suffered in the fire. (CP/Frank Gunn)

CHEATERS BEWARE. A metallic holographic stripe, a watermarked portrait, a colour-shifting thread woven into the paper and a see-through number are just a few of the latest ways the Bank of Canada is trying to fend off counterfeiters. So far, the $20, $50 and $100 bills have been fitted with these latest advancements and, for the time being at least, shop owners are breathing easier. (CP/Jonathan Hayward)

Canadian Events

A HELPING HAND. Canada's small, but powerful entertainment community stepped up to the plate, raising $7 million in two high-profile events for tsunami victims. Some of the big name acts who took part included Sarah McLachlan, the Barenaked Ladies and Avril Lavigne (right). Brent Butt and Rick Mercer hosted CTV's event from Vancouver and Ron MacLean presided over the CBC special in Toronto. (CP/Richard Lam)

A MORAL DILEMMA. The issue of same-sex marriage is splitting the nation. The Supreme Court of Canada ruled that Ottawa has exclusive jurisdiction to decide who has the right to get married—but made clear that religious groups are not obliged to perform unions against their beliefs. Courts in seven provinces have okayed same-sex unions, saying they are guaranteed under the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, but Conservative Party Leader Stephen Harper is leading those from all parties opposed to the idea. (CP/Jonathan Hayward)

LIGHTS OUT. A harsh storm swept through Nova Scotia in November, tearing down power lines and leaving more than 100,000 people in the dark for two days. The public blamed Nova Scotia Power for the outages, saying it failed to improve the province's grid after similar problems affected the East Coast in 2003 when the high winds of Hurricane Juan hit the shore. (CP/Andrew Vaughan)

A GOOD TIME TO REBRAND. Decked out in Air Canada's new midnight-blue uniform, Céline Dion welcomed back the country's biggest airline from 18 months in bankruptcy protection. Dion is a major part of the carrier's new image, including the use of her song, You and I Were Meant to Fly, as part of the ad campaign.

(CP/Frank Gunn)

MORE TEENS IN THE PEWS. A study by Alberta's University of Lethbridge indicates that church attendance is up by as much as five percentage points since the late 1990s. The most intriguing data is that, after years of decline, one of the largest increases occurred among Canadians between the ages of 15 and 19. Nearly one out of four teens surveyed say they attend church—a return to the level of 20 years ago after a dip to 18 per cent.

(CP/Kevin Frayer)

FALL OF A TITAN. Things aren't looking very good these days for Conrad Black and his journalist wife, Barbara Amiel. Lord Black's own company, Hollinger International Inc., once one of the world's leading newspaper publishers, accused him of running a "corporate kleptocracy" in which he and other high-ranking officials allegedly siphoned more than US$400 million from the company's coffers during a seven-year stretch. To add insult to injury, he was forced out as Hollinger chairman and now faces U.S. civil fraud charges.

(CP/Kevin Frayer)

GOODBYE TO A LEGEND. Pierre Berton devoted his life to making our history accessible and popular. One of Canada's most prolific writers, he wrote 50 books in 50 years—the most influential of which were The National Dream and The Last Spike about the building of the transcontinental railroad. The CanLit heavyweight died of heart failure at 84.

(MACLEAN'S/Peter Bregg)

BUTTING OUT. Canada may soon become the world's first smoke-free nation. So far, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Northwest Territories and Nunavut have widespread bans while others such as Ontario and Nova Scotia plan to institute them. Non-smokers are enjoying the fresher public air, but bar owners complain that they're feeling the pinch.

(CP/Tobin Grimshaw)

THE NEW KING OF POP.

With his idol Michael Jackson dealing with courtroom issues, Usher has stepped up and become the world's hottest pop music artist. The three-time Grammy Award nominee (including album of the year) is also looking to branch out and make a name for himself on the big screen, with a starring role in the romantic comedy, Dying for Dolly.

(ABACA/Debbie VanStory)

LIFE'S LESSONS. Kanye West has come a long way back from a horrible car accident that almost took his life in 2002. Last year, the L.A.-based DJ/producer (Jay-Z and John Legend) released his debut CD, The College Dropout, which earned him 10 Grammy nominations and three awards—rap album, rap song and R 'n' B song. (AP/Reed Saxon)

A SOULFUL SONGSTRESS.

A classically trained pianist, Alicia Keys (left) took home four Grammy awards, including Best R 'n' B album for her The Diary of Alicia Keys. And her duet with childhood friend Usher (My Boo) hovered near the top of the charts for most of 2004. (AP/Reed Saxon)

THE YEAR OF RAY. Soul legend Ray Charles, who died at 73 in June 2004, must have been smiling down on the Grammy Awards in L.A. The night included several tributes and eight posthumous Grammys, including album and record of the year for Genius Loves Company. The CD's big hit was his collaboration with Norah Jones, Here We Go Again, which won the Grammy for best pop collaboration. (AP/John Bazemore)

ALL GROWN UP, SORT OF. Proving that her Sk8er Boi days weren't a fluke, Avril Lavigne (above) came back with Under My Skin, earning herself a Much Music Award for favourite Canadian artist. On the personal side, Lavigne generated some buzz in the fall when rumours swirled that she was engaged to her boyfriend, Sum 41 frontman Deryck Whibley. For now, at least, the story has been denied, but Whibley is still in the picture. Stay tuned. (INFGoff.com/Dara Kushner)

WANT TO LOOK LIKE HILARY DUFF? Then shop at Zellers, which carries the pop star's clothing line, Stuff by Duff. Thanks to a loyal following among the tween and teen-girl set, Hilary's wholesome movie and music careers are taking off. Mothers and fathers don't seem to mind. In fact, they love the fact that Duff is the anti-Britney. (INFGoff.com/Dara Kushner)

ROCKING FOR A FREER WORLD.

More than two decades into their career, U2 is as good as they've ever been. How to Dismantle an Atomic Bomb earned the Irish rockers three Grammy Awards—including best rock song (Vertigo). And frontman Bono continues to be a thorn in the side of Western world leaders, as he fights for the rights of those suffering in developing nations.

(AP/Kevork Djansezian)

MAKING AN IDOL. Canadian Idol Kalan Porter started out as contestant #7039. The end result: 219 Days, his debut CD, which tells the story of Kalan's rise from life as a ranch hand on the family farm in Medicine Hat, Alta., to a pop singer with a smooth voice and curly hair that drives the girls crazy.

(CP/Frank Gunn)

AT LEAST THEY'RE GETTING SOME—RESPECT.

Simple Plan's sophomore CD, Still Not Getting Any, earned the Montreal rockers Much Music's People's Choice Favourite Canadian Band, as well as a pair of MTV Music Award nominations. Then again, their appearance in the largely ignored Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen flick New York Minute (2004) explains why it's hard for them to get any street cred.

(Everett Collection/S. Sarac)

GIVE ME THE FUNK. Maroon 5, a soulful L.A. band, exploded on to the music scene thanks to a couple of tunes from their debut CD, Songs About Jane. Their first single, This Love, helped to earn the group a Best New Artist award at the 2004 MTV Video Music Awards and the Grammy for best new artist.

STAGE FRIGHT—OR SORE THROAT?

Not willing to let her big sister Jessica hog the spotlight, Ashlee Simpson landed her own MTV reality series, The Ashlee Simpson Show and released her debut album, Autobiography. But the Texas-born singer also gained notoriety when she was caught lip-synching on Saturday Night Live—a mishap blamed on a medical condition known as acid reflux, but one that left many viewers asking for a doctor's note.

(ABACA/Khayat-Vlasic)

GETTING IT STARTED. Thanks to a breakdancing background, the members of Black Eyed Peas have the fanciest feet in the music business. Although they formed in 1995 and subsequently released two albums, it wasn't until 2003 when they added Fergie, a sharp-tongued vocalist, and released Elephunk, which earned them a Grammy, did they become international sensations.

(ABACA/Hahn-Khayat)

PUNKS WITH A HEART. Sure they scream their heads off like maniacs, but the guys in Billy Talent have hearts of gold. The Toronto-based rockers donated $1 to the Kids Help Phone Line every time their song Nothing To Lose (a song about kids who feel disconnected from the world) played on radio or on TV in October—raising more than $3,000. That works out to nearly 100 plays a day, or four times an hour.

(CP/Aaron Harris)

Lifestyles

NOW ANYONE CAN BE A WRITER. Personal Web blogs are now all over the Internet as people, from journalists (above) to just folks, share every detail of their life—regardless of how inane—with anyone who will read it. And marketers are getting into the game as well, trying to post ads on popular blogs to take advantage of the Web traffic.

(AP/Lauren Burke)

IT'S NOT JUST ABOUT THE MUSIC. Thanks to the incredible popularity of Apple's iPod (8.2 million were sold worldwide last year), many big-name designers—including Gucci and Burberry—have created accessories for the music player, including stylish cases, some costing more than $250. You wouldn't want your music player to be underdressed, would you? (AP/Paul Sakuma)

WHAT ABOUT AN EAT EVERYTHING DIET? That seems to be the only diet fad nobody's tested yet. On the roller coaster of get-thin, weight-loss schemes, many dieters have tried just about everything, including the Atkins pro-carb diet, the South Beach high-fibre diet and the Green Tea diet. Donuts anyone? (AP/L.G. Patterson)

PLEASE HOLD, I HAVE TO TAKE A PICTURE. It's a wonder how we got by when cellphones only made and took calls. Now, they snap pictures, text message, surf the Web and allow us to play games. This, of course, isn't without consequences. Spam has become a major problem, and the extra cell features offer even more of a distraction than a normal conversation. (MACLEAN'S/Peter Bregg)

A BLAST FROM THE PAST. Before many of you were born, teenagers used to play Pac-Man at the corner store, in bowling alleys and at the local arcade. Now, you get a chance to see what all the hype was about, thanks to the retro, plug-and-play joysticks which hook into your TV and transport you into the 1980s. (AP/Richard Drew)

FOLLOWING THE STARS. Spurred by celebrities (most notably Ben Affleck and Tobey Maguire) trying to draw inside straights and a series of high-stakes TV tournaments, poker has become the new hottest thing. The game, once a favourite among cowboys and Second World War soldiers, has also heated up on the Internet. (PA/Phil Noble)

Television

WITHOUT A LITTLE HELP FROM HIS FRIENDS. There is life after Friends. Matt LeBlanc (left) has moved from New York to L.A. to star in his own show, Joey—and his fans followed. The series, which won the People's Choice Award for Favourite New Comedy and Favourite Male Television Star, is also a big Hollywood break for Toronto-native Paulo Costanzo (middle), who plays Joey's geeky nephew Michael. (NBC Universal/Mike Ansell)

ISN'T HE RICH ENOUGH ALREADY? Donald Trump just won't go away. His vanity project, The Apprentice, returned for a third season with a changed format, pitting Ivy League nerds against a group of "street smart" entrepreneurs. And the Donald, who can't get enough of himself, has also increased his empire with a board game, cologne and even talk of a Broadway musical about his life. Will someone fire him, already. (AP/Jeff Roberson)

SUPERMAN'S DEAD? Don't tell Tom Welling, who plays a very young Clark Kent on Smallville—the latest TV interpretation of the comic book superhero. While Kent tries to harness his powers and keep his Superman identity secret, he also struggles with some very teenage problems—especially how to deal with his crush for Lana Lang (Kristin Kreuk). (Warner Bros./AP)

HEY JOAN, GOD'S ON LINE ONE. Sure she's just a teenager, but Joan Girardi (Amber Tamblyn, second from left) has a direct line to God in the People's Choice Award-winning drama Joan of Arcadia. She answers the man upstairs by doing the good deeds he instructs, but she never really knows if maybe she's just gone crazy. (AP/Reed Saxon)

DO YOU SEE A FORMULA? The award-winning Crime Scene Investigation franchise continues to grow as CSI: New York (Gary Sinise, left) joins the original CSI (William Petersen and Marg Helgenberger, right) and CSI: Miami in the battle for best small-screen forensics team. Won't be long before creators start thinking about another spinoff. CSI: Halifax, perhaps?

BUTT OF THE JOKE. Relying on whimsical, small-town observations, Brent Butt has turned himself into Canada's hottest comic. More than 1.5 million people are tuning in every week to Corner Gas (the most watched sitcom in Canada) to watch Butt play Brent LeRoy, a witty gas station owner in the fictional town of Dog River, Sask. (CTV Photo)

CALIFORNIA, HERE WE COME. Like all previous teen dramas (think, Beverly Hills 90210), the O.C. proves there's nothing better than watching a group of 20-something actors play rich teens in constant turmoil. At least, the kids from Orange County, Calif., have a great sense of humour—and fashion. (FOX/J. Viles)

A TRUE DOUBLE AGENT. It's incredible that Jennifer Garner (right) has any time for her role as Sydney Bristow on the award-winning spy drama Alias, considering she's now a bona fide movie star (Elektra). Not to mention her role as one-half of "Benifer," with boyfriend Ben Affleck. (AP/Virginia Lee Hunter)

MORE THAN JUST A PRETTY FACE. That's the goal of Extreme Makeover—a reality show that goes past the traditional makeover of a new haircut, a bit of lipstick and a new closet full of clothes. Sadly, participants go through major surgery—from dental to reconstructive—to "improve" themselves. (ABC TV Photo)

INSIDE THE MIND OF A GENIUS. To better understand what life was like for Ray Charles, Jamie Foxx—the year's most buzzed-about film star—kept his eyes sealed shut all day on the set of Ray. It certainly paid off, and he won an Oscar as best actor as a result. Fans and critics were blown away with Foxx's portrayal of the mercurial music legend, who died just months before the movie's release. (AP/Reed Saxon)

FLYING HIGH. Leonardo DiCaprio proved he's more than just a pretty face, masterfully recreating Howard Hughes, the eccentric billionaire/aviation pioneer/film mogul in The Aviator, which won five Oscars. DiCaprio also seemed pretty comfortable playing a ladies' man in Martin Scorsese's biopic—Hughes was known for dating bombshells, including movie stars Ava Gardner and Katharine Hepburn. (AP/Miramax Films)

NOT JUST SUPERMOM. In The Incredibles, which won the Oscar as best animated film, the whole family is made up of superheroes. Mr. Incredible, his wife Elastigirl and their three superhero kids are forced out of retirement to stop Syndrome from unleashing a deadly robot on their city. The film's stunning animation (from the makers of Finding Nemo and Monsters Inc.) creates an almost live-action feel. (©2004 Disney/Pixar)

A MONSTER OF A FRANCHISE. With 37 million copies sold worldwide, Shrek 2 was the world's No. 1 home video of 2004. Including related merchandise, the two Shrek films have grossed more than $2 billion. It seemed nobody could stay away from the tale of Fiona and Shrek's struggle for her family's approval—a real challenge, considering that Fiona's dad, the king, hired a sword-fighting Puss-in-Boots to kill Shrek. (DreamWorks Pictures)

BACK INTO THE WEB. Tobey Maguire (above) climbs back into the latex Spidey suit that made him famous. And while some things have changed in Spider-Man 2—this time, he has to save the world from a new villain, the multi-tentacled Doc Ock—other things remain the same. His alter-ego's (Peter Parker's) toughest challenge is still telling Mary Jane Watson (Kirsten Dunst) that he loves her. (Sony Pictures)

PULLING OUT ALL THE GAGS. A star-studded cast—including Ben Stiller (second from left), Dustin Hoffman (in red shirt) and Robert De Niro (in black jacket)—takes a shot at slapstick in Meet the Fockers, the sequel to the 2000 smash hit Meet the Parents. In the Fockers, two very different worlds collide when the ultra-conservative Jack Byrnes (De Niro) and his wife travel to Miami to meet their prospective son-in-law's parents—a couple of hippies. Hilarity ensues. (Tracy Bennett/Universal Pictures)

THE SEARCH FOR TRUTH. Framed for a botched CIA operation, Jason Bourne (Matt Damon)—who suffers from amnesia—returns to his life as a trained assassin in the action-packed thriller The Bourne Supremacy. Bourne zips across Europe, piecing together a history he can't fully remember. (Universal Studios/Jasin Boland)

WHO STEALS THE SHOW? In the original, Danny Ocean (George Clooney, left) enlisted the help of 10 other thieves (including Matt Damon, centre, and Brad Pitt, right) to steal US$160 million from Las Vegas casino tycoon Terry Benedict (Andy Garcia). In Ocean's 12, a vengeful Benedict has caught up with the gang's members who face his executioners if they can't return the dough in two weeks. Their solution? Try and pull off major robberies in Paris, Rome and Amsterdam. To help, they've added a new, 12th recruit—Isabel Lahiri (Catherine Zeta-Jones). (Warner Bros.)

NOT EXACTLY A LADIES MAN. After proving he's a Hollywood heavyweight in several big-budget action flicks (I, Robot), Will Smith gets back to what he does best, comedy (remember The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air?). Smith (left) plays a matchmaking "Love Doctor" in Hitch. Guess what? He's not as suave when it comes to his own love life. (Barry Wetcher/Sony Pictures)

WHAT A GIRL WANTS, RIGHT? Mean Girls is the funniest and smartest teen flick in years—and responsible for putting Lindsay Lohan (far left) on the Hollywood map. The former Ford model plays Cady, a home-schooled teen who, in her quest to fit in, gets entangled with the Plastics, three glam-girls who dominate their school's social hierarchy. (Paramount)

FREAKS AND GEEKS. If there were an award for most original film, Napoleon Dynamite might have a shot. Jon Heder (above) plays the high-school title character perfectly, capturing every dorky mannerism you can imagine, as he tries to help his best friend win the student council presidency over the school's super-cool kid, Summer Wheatley (Haylie Duff). (Fox Searchlight)

IT REALLY IS OUR GAME. Canada proved to be a hockey powerhouse, coming away with world championship victories in men's (over Sweden 5-3 in Prague), women's (top, beating the U.S. 2-0 in Halifax) and juniors (with a 6-1 win over Russia in Grand Forks, N.D.). Wayne Gretzky (above) once again proved to be the great one, this time as general manager in building the men's team. (CP/Ryan Remiorz)

HOCKEY SEASON ICED. There will be no Stanley Cup this year, for the first time since 1919 when it was cancelled due to the killer Spanish flu. A bitter showdown between NHL players and owners over the size of a salary cap resulted in the cancellation of the 2004-05 season. Polls indicate that fans aren't that sad about the loss—which doesn't bode well for the future of the game. (AP/Paul Sancya)

RED MILE COMES UP A BIT SHORT. Led by captain Jarome Iginla (centre), the gritty Calgary Flames shocked the hockey world and endeared themselves to all Canadian fans with an unexpected run in last year's Stanley Cup playoffs. Only the Tampa Bay Lightning were able to put out the fire, ending the Flames run in Game 7 of the finals. (CP/Chuck Stoddy)

STILL PLENTY OF GAS IN THE TANK. Many thought Toronto Argonauts quarterback Damon Allen (left) was too old to bring home a championship. But the 41-year-old proved them wrong, earning the Grey Cup MVP award by running for a pair of touchdowns and passing for another to lead his club to a 27-19 win over the B.C. Lions in Ottawa. He's signed for another two seasons. (CP/J. P. Moczulski)

LITTLE GUY WITH GREAT HANDS. When Victoria's Steve Nash was drafted 15th overall in 1996, few expected him to turn into one of the league's top stars. But the Phoenix Suns guard is a leading candidate for MVP—thanks largely to his unselfish play. But, sadly, Nash says he won't play for Canada's national team at the world championships this year, the first time in 12 years. (AP/Paul Connors)

A GRIDIRON DYNASTY. The New England Patriots, led by signal-caller Tom Brady (above), cemented themselves as one of the greatest teams in NFL history when they won Super Bowl XXXIX 24-21 over the Philadelphia Eagles. The championship win in Jacksonville, Fla., was the team's third Super Bowl title in four seasons. (AP/Julie Jacobson)

GOAL!!!! Having been ridiculed for its defensive style of play, Greece pulled off a stunning upset, beating host nation Portugal in a nail-biting 1-0 end to the 2004 Euro Cup. The Greeks made it to the finals after eliminating perennial powerhouses France and the Czech Republic. (AP/Frank Augstein)

FEW BRIGHT SPOTS. The Athens Olympics didn't go exactly as planned for Canada. Kayaker Adam Koeeverden (above) was the only double medallist (gold and bronze), earning the right to carry the flag at the closing ceremonies, and Lori-Ann Muenzer (right) won Canada's first ever cycling gold. But most of the focus was on the low medal count (12) and world champion Perdita Felicien, who fell in the 110-m hurdle final, shattering her dreams of a gold medal.

MR. EXPO GOES TO WASHINGTON. For years, rumours have swirled that Montreal was going to lose its major league baseball franchise. Finally, after 5 seasons and with fan support at an all-time low, league officials pulled the plug, moving the franchise to Washington—which hasn't had a MLB team since the Washington Senators packed up and moved to Texas in 1971.

BIG STICK. Even though a broken wrist kept him out of the Pittsburgh Pirates lineup for the first month of the season, left fielder Jason Bay hit 26 homers and drove in 82 runs in his rookie campaign. The slugger from Trail, B.C., became the first Canadian to win the National League rookie of the year award.

ANNA WHO? Maria Sharapova became the first Russian woman to win Wimbledon when she upset American powerhouse Serena Williams. The straight-sets win at the All-England club turned the stunning 17-year-old into a media starlet—making a lot of people forget about Anna Kournikova.

SWEEPING AWAY 86 YEARS OF PAIN. Tired of being the heartbreak kids, the Boston Red Sox are now world champs, finally. They disposed of the New York Yankees in the American League Championship Series after being down three games to none, the first time a team had come back from that sort of deficit in post-season play. Then, they swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win their first World Series title since 1918—the year they traded Babe Ruth to the Yankees. (AP/Sue Ogrocki)

SPACE TOURISM ERA BEGINS. Travelling at 3,600 km/hr, former U.S. Navy fighter pilot Brian Binnie led SpaceShipOne's record-setting flight (113 km above the Earth's surface). The team earned the US$10 million Ansari X-Prize for developing the first privately funded (it cost some US$30 million) spacecraft to exceed more than 100 km twice within a 14-day period. CAN YOU HEAR A DIFFERENCE? If the poor reception on your cellphone is driving you crazy, you might want to try the new Jawbone. This cool wired headset picks up speech vibrations from your head as you speak and filters out background noise—so you won't miss any of the important gossip. (AP/Sandy Huffaker)

ARE YOUR BRAINS IN YOUR FEET? Talk about personalized shopping. With a computer chip weighing 40 grams embedded in the heel, the Adidas 1 running shoe constantly adjusts the shoe's cushioning level to your size and stride. Each second, the sensor takes up to 20,000 readings and makes up to 10,000 calculations—directing a tiny electric motor. Of course, the approximately $300 shoes won't make you run any faster. (AP/Don Ryan)

BETTER BREATH, GUARANTEED.

It's disgusting to think about, but you should know that your toothbrush is a cesspool of bacteria. So you might want to try the Violight Toothbrush Sanitizer, which uses a germicidal UV light to kill up to 99.9 per cent of the bacteria. It's like a bath for your brush. (Violight)

AFRAID OF HEIGHTS? At 343 m above the Tarn River, the $720 million viaduct built to alleviate a traffic problem in the small southern French town of Millau is the tallest bridge in the world (in fact, it's even taller than the Eiffel Tower). More than 240,000 tonnes of steel and concrete make up the superstructure. Word of advice—don't look down. (AP/Christophe Ena)

WET AND WILD. Scientists from 53 countries have discovered more than 600 new fish species (including the Hydrolagus mattallansi, above, which is believed to have lurked in the depths off the coast of Brazil for more than 150 million years) as part of a major ocean census, recording all known marine life. So far, about 25,000 species have been logged and scientists suspect there are as many as 40,000 yet to be recorded. (AP/Rafael de Alcantara Brandi)
